

RESTAURANT REVITALIZATION $28.6 BILLION FUND SEMINAR

Lila L. Lammiman
Assistant Secretary
Department of Economic Development

"Restaurants are the core of our neighborhoods and propel economic activity on main streets across the nation. They are among the businesses that have been hardest hit and need support to survive this pandemic. We want restaurants to know that help is here," said Assistant Secretary Lammiman.

"The EDD has focused on the marketplace realities of our food and beverage businesses in designing the Restaurant Revitalization Fund to meet businesses where they are. And we are committed to working to ensure our smaller and underrepresented restaurants, which have suffered the most, can access this critical relief, recover, and grow more resilient."
